Guangzhou LC SIGN Co., Ltd.

Designed to Lead. Made to Last.

For over 15 years, LC SIGN has been exploring how design, materials and craftsmanship can redefine signage for modern spaces.

We create more than functional signs. By combining forward-thinking design, carefully selected materials and precision manufacturing, we transform signage into a considered part of the architectural environment—distinctive in appearance, refined in detail and made for lasting performance.

From new materials and finishes to evolving forms, lighting and fabrication techniques, LC SIGN continues to push beyond conventional signage solutions. Our experience across diverse international projects gives us a broader perspective on changing design expectations and helps us turn emerging ideas into products that are both original and practical.

Today, our signage can be found across hospitality, workplace, residential, retail, healthcare and other commercial environments around the world.

Innovative in design. Refined in quality. Made for what's next.

We create more than functional signs. By combining forward-thinking design, carefully selected materials and precision manufacturing, we transform signage into a considered part of the architectural environment

A Small Detail. A Defining Impression.

A door sign may be one of the smallest elements in a space, yet it is often one of the first to be seen, touched and remembered.

At LC SIGN, we believe signage should do more than communicate information. It should respond to the architecture, reflect the identity of the space and contribute to the experience behind every door.

That is why we continue to explore new materials, refined finishes, thoughtful forms and evolving technologies—creating door signs that balance function with design, and craftsmanship with imagination.

Innovative in design. Refined in quality. Made for what's next.
